Imagine, Create, Enjoy...

Bits From The Board

The Guild resumed general meetings on September 17th after our summer hiatus. A good crowd was treated to a wonderful lecture about sculpture and the rebels who created them, presented by Kendall Martin.

After the general meeting the Board met briefly to review financials, discuss upcoming shows, and continue looking at Zappication and possible grants.

Twelve artists participated in the recent home improvement show at the MB Convention Center. Sales topped last year and we made contact with a number of potential new WACG members. Ten percent of the proceeds came to the Guild and will be used to bring in speakers during the year. Thanks to all who participated, and especially to Tom and Kathy Britton who organized and shepherded the show.

I hope everyone got their entries in for the Fall Members Show and will be present at the reception later this month. If you can help in any capacity, please contact Tom Britton.

Hope to see you at Art in the Park as well as at the members show.

Carolyn Powell, President

Monthly Meeting

Our next monthly meeting will be at the Art Museum at 1:30 pm on Sunday October 15th. A Board meeting will be held at the museum following the general meeting. Board meetings are open to the public.

Nick Mariano is a professional photographer and professional scuba diver. Nick works and travels throughout the world, giving him the opportunity to photograph a wide array of countries and peoples, and to also do underwater photography at some of the best dive locations in the world. He is a member of a number of local art groups in Myrtle Beach and displays his photography at several galleries in the area. He has also recently begun writing and publishing both photographic and written novel books.

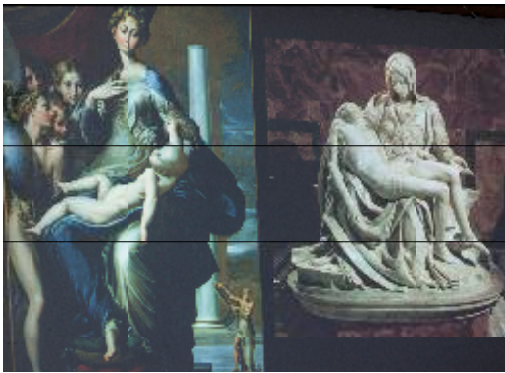

Our speaker for September was Kendall Martin. She spoke on Sculptures and the Rebels Who Made Them. Her program was very entertaining and informative.

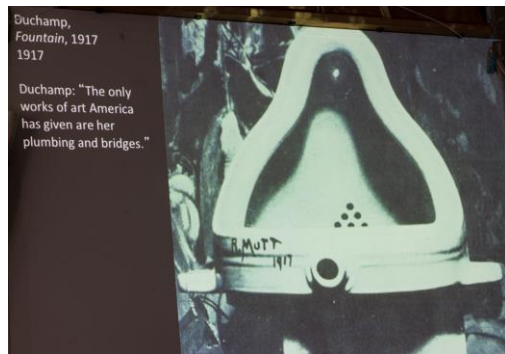

Great program explaining a wide range of sculptures.....

Other Show / Event Info

The Myrtle Beach Art Museum

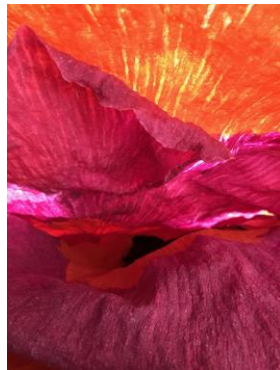

Grand Strand Collects

and

Jocelyn Châteauevert: It Bloomed At Night

Comprised of over 200 works of art borrowed from 48 private Grand Strand collections, Grand Strand Collects brings light not only to the caliber of art but also pays homage to the art enthusiasts who collect them. Works of art vary from ancient Egyptian artifacts and historical prints to modern and contemporary sculpture and paintings.

While Grand Strand Collects fills all 10 galleries in the Art Museum, our Reception Gallery has been transformed by the art of South Carolina Arts Commission Craft Fellow, Jocelyn Châteauevert, with one of her extraordinary site-specific installations, Jocelyn Châteauevert: It Bloomed at Night. By air-drying her paper, Châteauevert has developed a distinctly organic style with her handmade paper, air-dried into three-dimensional forms that the artist then artfully arranges to fill and transform our space into a wonderland of beauty, light and fantasy.

Admission to the Art Museum is free at all times but donations are welcome. For information, call 843-238-2510.

Opportunity

Phillip Reeser of the Horry County School District is looking for artists to mentor BETA art students who are preparing for state competition. Phillip advises that there are several categories where help is needed – jewelry, pastel/charcoal, photography (b/w and color), painting, and recycled art. If you would be interested in mentoring a young artist in one of these projects contact Phillip Reeser at preeser@horrycountyschools.net. Phillip advises that they have a limited budget to compensate for supplies and time spent.
