December 2018

Imagine, Create, Enjoy

Bits from The Board

The Waccamaw Arts and Crafts Guild held its monthly general meeting at the Art Museum on November 18. Those in attendance enjoyed a fascinating look at Breta O'Master 's mirror art and the way she goes about creating her one-of-a-kind pieces.

Thanks to all who brought donations of clothes and non perishable food for Sea Haven. Kathy Britton and I delivered them the following Monday; they were greatly appreciated. At our December meeting please continue our tradition of donating new or gently used art supplies, which are very useful in helping the Sea Haven children find themselves.

Our program in December will feature newly graduated CCU art students-- their presentations are always amazing.

Please join us this month and enjoy the fellowship of fellow artists and art lovers. Happy holidays.

-- Carolyn Powell,
President

Monthly Meeting

COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF VISUAL ARTS GRADUATING
SENIORS TO BE FEATURED AT WACCAMAW
ARTS AND CRAFTS GUILD DECEMBER MEETING

The December 16th, 2018 WACG meeting presentation will consist of four Coastal Carolina University's Department of Visual Arts graduating seniors: Angelica D'Antonio, Hanna Davis, Sara Hallstein, and Joseph Quinn.

After a brief overview of the semester-long process leading up to the culminating Senior Exhibit and introduction of the students, each will then present related imagery, samples of their work, and discuss their respective processes central to this important project and event.

The exceptional works created by these highly skilled students range greatly in media, size, and expressive solutions and are of the quality that should prove very inspiring. Do plan to join us for this exciting and informative presentation of Coastal Carolina University students and their creative efforts and accomplishments.

The Myrtle Beach Art Museum

Collection Connections | A Visual Exploration of Southern Heritage is an exhibition of approximately 40 works from the Art Museum's rich permanent collections, including antique maps and historical prints, works on paper by Southern artists, including William H. Clarke, Cassandra Gillens and Jonathan Green, fabric quilts and photographs. Using Southern-history-themed works of art from our collections, the exhibition uses the visual arts to teach and explore the history and culture of South Carolina and our entire region and is designed for both school students and adults alike.

Easton Selby

"Rootwork"

9/27 – 12/16

Born in 1979 and raised in central Mississippi by a family who encouraged art-making, Easton Selby received his BFA from Delta State University in Cleveland, MS, where he first discovered fine art photography. At the recommendation of his uncle, a commercial photographer, Selby took his first photography class, during which he developed his affinity for the medium. Selby went on to complete a MFA in visual arts from Clemson University (SC), where he studied under photographer Sam Wang. His current work centers around themes of religion, Southern folklore and myth. He resides in Conway, SC, where he is the head of the visual arts department at Coastal Carolina University. Selby's exhibition RootWork explores the essence of the photographic medium through his experiences with religion in the South.

The Limited Palette

9/27 – 12/16

The Limited Palette is an exploration of 18 art objects—all created within the last 50 years—from the Art Museum's Permanent Collection that exhibit minimal use of color. Objects range from two-dimensional drawings, paintings and prints to three-dimensional ceramics, both functional and conceptual. Artists represented include Alice Ballard, Genevieve Willcox Chandler, Linda Fantuzzo, Nina Gelardi-Shedd, Chris Hanson, Steven Jordan, Lynda Karl, Elizabeth Keller, Kincheloe, Jean McWhorter, Alex Powers, Chris Ritsch, Allan Taylor, Martha Thomas and Charles Williams.

Coming soon -

Elizabeth Bradford – Time + Terrain

1/2 – 4/28

North Carolina artist Elizabeth Bradford explores intricate formal patterns found in nature. Her paintings investigate landscape and the power of place, with special affection for the Southeast. Time + Terrain invites the viewer to study the natural world, to explore it deeply. The exhibition includes 27 paintings of various scale reflecting the artist's impressions of nature's complex beauty. Accompanying the art are eloquent commentaries written by Bradford detailing her insights and observations.

The Scape of Water

1/2 – 4/28

Some of nature's greatest scenic views are those of water. In addition to the numerous artistic styles and media employed to represent water—hyper-realism, abstraction, surrealism, minimalism or classicism in paint, graphite and paper collage or sculpted in stone—there are numerous points of view from which to compose one's depiction. Water and its environs are always changing—never looking exactly the same from one second to the next. Perhaps this is why artists continually, throughout the history of art, have turned to the waterscape as subject matter.

The Scope of Water is a Museum Permanent Collection exhibition of works that portray water from a diverse array of media and perspectives, including aerial or atmospheric, linear and birds-eye view. We invite you to gaze at this very serene and meditative collection of art and ponder man's endless urge to visually portray this ever-changing but constant life force that both sustains and intrigues us.

Announcements

A couple of months ago we received a call from Sea Haven asking for help. They needed art supplies for the children staying there. We knew that they help homeless young people, but what we didn't know is that they exist solely on donations. They need everything.

This month we are going to try to help them with non-perishables (canned goods, etc.). Also, they need clothes for boys and girls ages 13 to 17 (young adult sizes). If you have some things to donate, please bring them to the November meeting. The children arrive at Sea Haven with little more than the clothes on their backs.

At the December meeting we will, once again, collect new and "gently used" art supplies for them. Art therapy is a really great thing for the young people at the shelter.

It was nice to be able to help Sea Haven with the art supplies (and the kids loved them), but they need much more. Help if you can.

One More Thing...

We will be collecting more new or “gently used” art supplies for another donation to Sea Haven in December. Please keep this in mind and help if you can. As a non-profit organization (and human beings) it is our responsibility to give back to the community what we can. Helping these young people is truly a good thing.

Thanks to those folks who brought items (canned goods, etc.) last month. The folks at Sea Haven were thrilled. Again, they exist solely on donations. We are focusing on this group and the great work that they do for that reason.

Tom Britton, Editor

WACG Show & Communications Director

IMPORTANT -

Please remember to update me on your new schedules if you teach. 2019 is approaching and I suspect that some changes will be needed.

Thanks, Tom

SCAM ALERT

I sent out a warning about some emails that suggested that the writer wanted to purchase artwork for a gift. I now understand that there have also been phone calls to some of our artists.

Remember, if it sounds too good to be true it probably is. The email that I received said that the party wanted to purchase some of my artwork that was seen online. The clues were poor use of the English language, no specific artworks mentioned, willing to pay between $500 and $5000. Clearly there was a problem with this. I deleted the email. So, if it walks like a duck, quacks like a duck...it's probably FOUL!

If you receive something questionable, let me know and I will put out a warning to the membership. We will see more of these.

Be careful,

Tom
