February 2019

Imagine, Create, Enjoy

Bits From The Board

Our general meeting was called to order on January 20, 2019, using the wonderful new gavel that woodworker Paul Moyer crafted and presented. We appreciate his efforts and support.

Announcements were made about the upcoming Home Show, Art in the Park, and the Juried Show at the Art Museum. New rack cards were made available to members for distribution around the Grand Strand, and members were reminded to renew their memberships for 2019.

The large number of members and visitors in attendance were then treated to a delightful program by Susan Allen, a multi-talented artist/crafter whose work illustrated that creative people everywhere use the materials that are available to them in their immediate world: wood, gourds, pine straw, etc.

It is so nice to see so many people coming to our programs and enjoying the presentations as well as each other's company!

The Board met afterward. It was noted that the initial meeting creating the Waccamaw Arts and Crafts guild was held fifty years ago this month; it is going strong after all these years thanks to dedicated participants. We hope you will all become more involved members.

New Board member Barbara Blake has taken on fund raising elements of the Guild. Please take an active part in the things she has planned if she contacts you---better yet, contact her and offer to help! Sharon Sorrels is working in conjunction with the Seacoast Guild to get out notices about our annual scholarship. Natalie, Kathy and Joanne have met to work on the SC Arts Grant requirements.

Stay warm and keep creating!

Carolyn Powell, President

Announcement

Great news! Thanks to the hard work of Natalie Von Loewenfeldt, Kathy Britton and JoAnne Utterback our guild has received a grant from the South Carolina Arts Commission. You will now start seeing the following logo on our publications.

SOUTH CAROLINA arts COMMISSION

Thanks to the South Carolina Arts Commission for their support.

Monthly Meeting

Our January program was presented by Susan A. Allen. Susan provided an entertaining and interesting presentation of her artistic crafts and carvings. She had decorative gourds and pine straw baskets using the needles of the South Carolina long leaf pine. She also had her carved animals, boats and ships. It was a lot of fun...great program! Our laughter was heard throughout the museum.

Our February 17th meeting will feature a program by Joe Quinn. Joe is a professional photographer, artist and writer who specializes in underwater, nature, documentary and fine art imagery. His work has been widely published in magazines, books, advertising campaigns, and on the web. In addition, his works have been exhibited in the United States and internationally.

Joe is also a member of the Ocean Artists Society, a unique alliance of the world's top marine life artists, sculptors, painters, photographers and film-makers whose goal it is to foster an interest in the ocean arts and marine life issues.

Originally from New York City, Joe now works and lives along the South Carolina coast.

Join us at the museum for this interesting program.

Show / Event Info

Myrtle Beach Art Museum

Elizabeth Bradford – Time + Terrain

1/2 – 4/28

North Carolina artist Elizabeth Bradford explores intricate formal patterns found in nature. Her paintings investigate landscape and the power of place, with special affection for the Southeast. Time + Terrain invites the viewer to study the natural world, to explore it deeply. The exhibition includes 27 paintings of various scale reflecting the artist's impressions of nature's complex beauty. Accompanying the art are eloquent commentaries written by Bradford detailing her insights and observations.

The Scape of Water

1/2 – 4/28

Some of nature's greatest scenic views are those of water. In addition to the numerous artistic styles and media employed to represent water—hyper-realism, abstraction, surrealism, minimalism or classicism in paint, graphite and paper collage or sculpted in stone—there are numerous points of view from which to compose one's depiction. Water and its environs are always changing—never looking exactly the same from one second to the next. Perhaps this is why artists continually, throughout the history of art, have turned to the waterscape as subject matter.

The Scape of Water is a Museum Permanent Collection exhibition of works that portray water from a diverse array of media and perspectives, including aerial or atmospheric, linear and birds-eye view. We invite you to gaze at this very serene and meditative collection of art and ponder man's endless urge to visually portray this ever-changing but constant life force that both sustains and intrigues us.

Kate Hooray Osmond – Light Shine Down

1/10 – 4/28

Charleston-SC-based artist Kate Hooray Osmond shines her artistic light in this exhibition of vibrant, large- and small-scale paintings accompanied by the artist's playful installation work. Composed of oil with gold leaf overlay, Osmond's signature style is architectural in its bold and graphic use of line and color, as well as fresh in its perspective—the artist often employs bird's-eye views. A perfect blend of abstraction and representational land and waterscapes will delight the eye and ignite the urge to get out and enjoy the many views our part of the country has to offer.

Time has brought all of us to this moment of wonder. Take a look around you. Life is sweet and will shine through. -Kate Hooray Osmond
