Imagine, Create, Enjoy

Bits From The Board

At last month's general meeting, we had a fine crowd which was treated to a thoughtful presentation by Lauren Dauphin. She shared a number of her portraits and offered insight into her motivation and methods. This month we will have a hands-on program about carving, so I hope you can come and enjoy learning something new and enjoying each other's company.

Thanks to everyone who brought in donations for Sea Haven. Thanks also to the Utterbacks for storing many of the items until Tom Britton could pick up and deliver them.

The Guild's presence at a recent survey tour by the SC Arts Commission was noted, and those present were given an email address to send in their thoughts about and hopes for arts in our area. This is a survey done every ten years to help the commission develop policies and programs for the coming years.

You are reminded to fill out and submit your membership forms for 2020. The Home Show at the MB convention center will be in mid-February, so keep an eye out for an email calling for participants. First come, first served!

There was no Board meeting in December.

Best wishes for a creative, dazzling 2020.

Carolyn Powell, President

Sara Golish – Birds of Paradise

January 14 – April 11, 2020

Toronto-based artist Sara Golish questions the symbolism of conventional oil portraiture through a lens of eco-feminism by depicting traditionally oppressed bodies with dignity and grace in her Birds of Paradise series. Golish breathes new life into the traditional canon of early modern portraiture, where affluent women were presented in ways that spoke more to men's accumulation of wealth and status than to any representation of their own identities. If women of color appeared, they were rendered as servants and exotic curiosities to demonstrate the imperial reach of aristocratic power and wealth. Birds of Paradise is about liberating not just the subject from the patriarchal grasp, but also the form, techniques and materials from their historical usage and symbolism. Golish fills her portraits with ethnically diverse female subjects in bold colors, as well as exotic birds and plants that symbolize strength through adversity and fortitude of spirit.

Eli Corbin, Fran Gardner, Lisa Stroud and Beau Wild - Voice Lessons

January 19 – April 11, 2020

Focusing on issues women have dealt with for centuries, Voice Lessons is a multi-media visual-arts narrative of women's lives — the strength, tenacity and courage demonstrated by our mothers, sisters, daughters and friends. Shifting the dialogue toward empowerment, the art of four female artists, Eli Corbin (Asheville, NC), Fran Gardner (Heath Springs, SC), Lisa Stroud (Cary, NC) and Beau Wild (Port Orange, FL), illustrates the multi-dimensional reality of womanhood — as intelligent and sexual and as powerful and feminine, with emotional range. Voice Lessons encourages tolerance, empathy and compassion among women and men, as it draws together the struggle, strength, vulnerability, individuality and community of the female experience.

Joseph Hoffman – A Tribute To Andrew Wyeth

January 23 – April 11, 2020

Self-taught artist Joseph Hoffman (b. Bristol, PA), of Murrells Inlet, SC, began drawing as a pastime and, over time, honed his skill. Winning ribbons and awards from juried art exhibits, festivals and craft shows encouraged him to continue on his artistic path. A retired Hoffman continues to draw at home, sketching and painting both famous and obscure compositions by his all-time favorite artists, namely Andrew Wyeth (1917 – 2009). Hoffman was first introduced to the work of Wyeth about 40 years ago when he visited the Brandywine River Museum in Chester County, PA. Over the course of many years, Hoffman has produced over 100 Wyeth scenes, some as many as seven or eight times. His graphite and ink renditions of Wyeth paintings are a welcome challenge to Hoffman, as well as a way to elevate his work from mere copies to homage to one of America's most beloved artists.

The Power of She – A Permanent Collection Exhibition

January 30 – April 22, 2020

It's the year 2020, and the Art Museum is celebrating women and all of their accomplishments, particularly in the arts. The Power of She is an exhibition of nearly 40 works of art from the Museum's permanent collection featuring work created by, thematically representative of and/or commemorating women, femininity and girl power. Objects on display will include a drawing by the late locally renowned artist and humanitarian, Genevieve Willcox Chandler (1890 – 1980), as well as paintings and sculpture by contemporary artists Sigmund Abeles, Alice Ballard, Dixie Dugan, Cassandra Gillens, Jonathan Green, Betsy Havens, Elizabeth Keller, Jennifer Falck Linssen, Kate Hooray Osmond, Betty Anglin Smith and more. Both visually stunning and technically impressive, this body of work is a wonderful way to experience the beauty and power of the collective "SHE."

One More Thing -

We managed to deliver our donations to Sea Haven before Christmas and they were thrilled to receive them. The children at the facility came out and helped me unload the items in the rain. We delivered a variety of things in addition to the art supplies that we provide to them. Waccamaw Arts & Crafts Guild is very special to them and for good reason. We have a great group of generous people. Thanks to everyone who helped to make Christmas special for the kids at Sea Haven.

Happy New Year to everyone. Don't forget to make that New Year's Resolution. Remember you can't break it, if you don't make it. In fact, we should probably try to keep the resolution for a while...
