Imagine, Create, Enjoy

Bits From The Board

It looks like things are slowly getting back to "normal," as the pandemic starts to fade and gas pipelines are operational again.

The Juried Show at the museum was very successful, both from a quality and a financial point of view. Again, thanks to all who participated.

Please be thinking about how you can help strengthen the Guild. Fresh ideas, twenty first century skills, and new energy are desperately needed.

I hope your summer is filled with adventure and creativity.

- Carolyn Powell, President

The Myrtle Beach Art Museum

The 24th Annual Waccamaw Arts & Crafts Guild Juried Show

April 29th – May 27th, 2021

Another show is done. It was a wonderful show. Thanks to all who entered. All of you, those who got their artwork accepted and those who did not, made this show great.

Thanks, of course to Pat Goodwin, Liz Miller and the rest of the museum staff for their hard work. They are so good to us and so good to work with. We have a wonderful museum here at the beach.

Of course, we must thank Dee Beard Dean, our judge, for her great work in selecting the winners of the awards. I encourage everyone to visit her website and check out her artwork.

For anyone who might be interested, I have been contacted by the organizers of Artisanville who are looking for artists to participate in this two-day, indoor event at the Greenville Convention Center November 6-7, 2021. This is a large show with 150 – 200 artists and there are prizes given in various categories. It is also a chance to sell your art. For information go to Artisanville.net.
